Wayne County to Hold Services Expo at Belle Isle Park

TV Judge Greg Mathis, Wayne County Executive, Sheriff will speak on free resident services

Wayne County, MI – Wayne County Executive Robert Ficano will be joined by Detroit native and television judge Greg Mathis, along with Wayne County Sheriff Benny Napoleon on Saturday, July 17 at Belle Isle from 12 p.m. to 4 p.m. to present the array of free services offered by Wayne County. The Wayne County Services Expo is free, will feature a number of activities and information, and all Wayne county residents are encouraged to attend.

“We encourage Wayne County residents to take advantage of all the County provides,” said Wayne County Executive Robert A. Ficano. “We want people to know what resources they have at their fingertips, from health services to legal and youth services.”

The event will provide attendees with valuable information regarding free Wayne County programs and services, including:

- Health Insurance
- Health and Dental Screenings
- Mortgage Foreclosure Prevention Program
- Business Certification Program
- Job Training Programs
- Youth Services Prevention Program
- Senior Services
- Voter Registration
- Record Expungement
- Head Start

The Wayne County Service Expo will take place across from the Belle Isle Casino. The program will kick off shortly after 12 pm, featuring Executive Ficano, Judge Mathis and Sheriff Napoleon.

Additional activities include kids’ face painting, games, food, gifts, prizes, and free concert tickets (while supplies last).
